

- Citizenship Values

Geography offer many possibilities for developing sympathy for the lives and problems of others people. It is good for the society to keep persons of different skills and calibres. The geography should help pupil to discover their latent qualities and to take pride in their talent to develop a constructive attitude towards all that corners his country. Geography necessitates lining on a basis of international co-operation and understanding.

- Value for developing National outlook

Knowledge of geography for solution of the economic, social and political problems at national level is very helpful to bridge the gap and it helps in avoiding conflict by bringing about international understanding and teaches the value for conservation of environmental resources. For the progress and prosperity for the mankind we have to share these flow and fund resources, use judiciously and efficiently to preserve for the future generation.

- Value for Developing International Outlook

Modern world is a global village. No nation or society can progress in isolation and mutual understanding and cooperation is needed to share the resources, knowledge and technology.

- Value of global understanding problems

The knowledge of Geography can be made to provide the basis for understanding of many social, economic and political problems. It develops social qualities like broadmindedness, sympathy tolerance, selflessness, fellow feelings, cooperation and unity. Especially in times of COVID-19 India's scientific and systematic venture to combat the deadly virus made a useful member of world society.

DR. MOUSUMI BORAI