

Organizing National Integration Camps/ clubs:

Organisation of National Integration Camps by department of school education. Ministry of H.R.D. is a right step in right direction for inculcating feelings of oneness among the students and teachers. The main objective of such camps is to enable school students understand and appreciate the social and cultural life of people in different states of India.

At the state level, state department of school and mass education and SCERT should organize these camps on a wider scale to promote a feeling of unity among the students.

(i) A uniform pattern of school dress for teachers and students all over the nation is a right step in the direction of creating a national feeling in their minds.

(ii) Development of community life in every educational institution is a step in right direction.

(iii) Organisation of social and national service programmes concurrently with academic studies like NCC, ACC, Scouts, NSS Camps, Red-cross, Girls Guides Camp etc. are other activities which serve the purpose of fostering of national temper in the tender minds.

(iv) Participation of students in programmes of community development and national reconstruction should be encouraged.

(v) Organisation of different games and sports, exercises etc. should be encouraged.

(vi) Development of national discipline scheme is to be implanted in the school campus for promotion of feeling of oneness.

(vii) Students, the future citizens of the country should be trained in democratic values and ideals for the full-flowering of national integration. Further, it is note-worthy to add that in order to maintain communal and religious harmony, pupils should be nurtured in secularism and values of toleration, harmony, brotherhood and fellow-feeling by suitable programmes.
